Situation

Located on the northwest coast of the Highlands, in an area renowned for its unspoilt beauty and white sandy beaches, the scenic village of Arisaig offers a good range of day-to-day amenities including a well-stocked village store, Post Office, hotel, churches, restaurants, a public house, visitor centre with museum, marina, golf course and popular primary school.

The nearby port town of Mallaig offers more comprehensive facilities including supermarket, independent shops, cafés and restaurants, hotels, a bank, medical centre, community-run leisure centre, primary and secondary schooling, several public houses and a ferry service to the Isle of Skye. More extensive amenities are available in Fort William, accessible by the village's bus route.

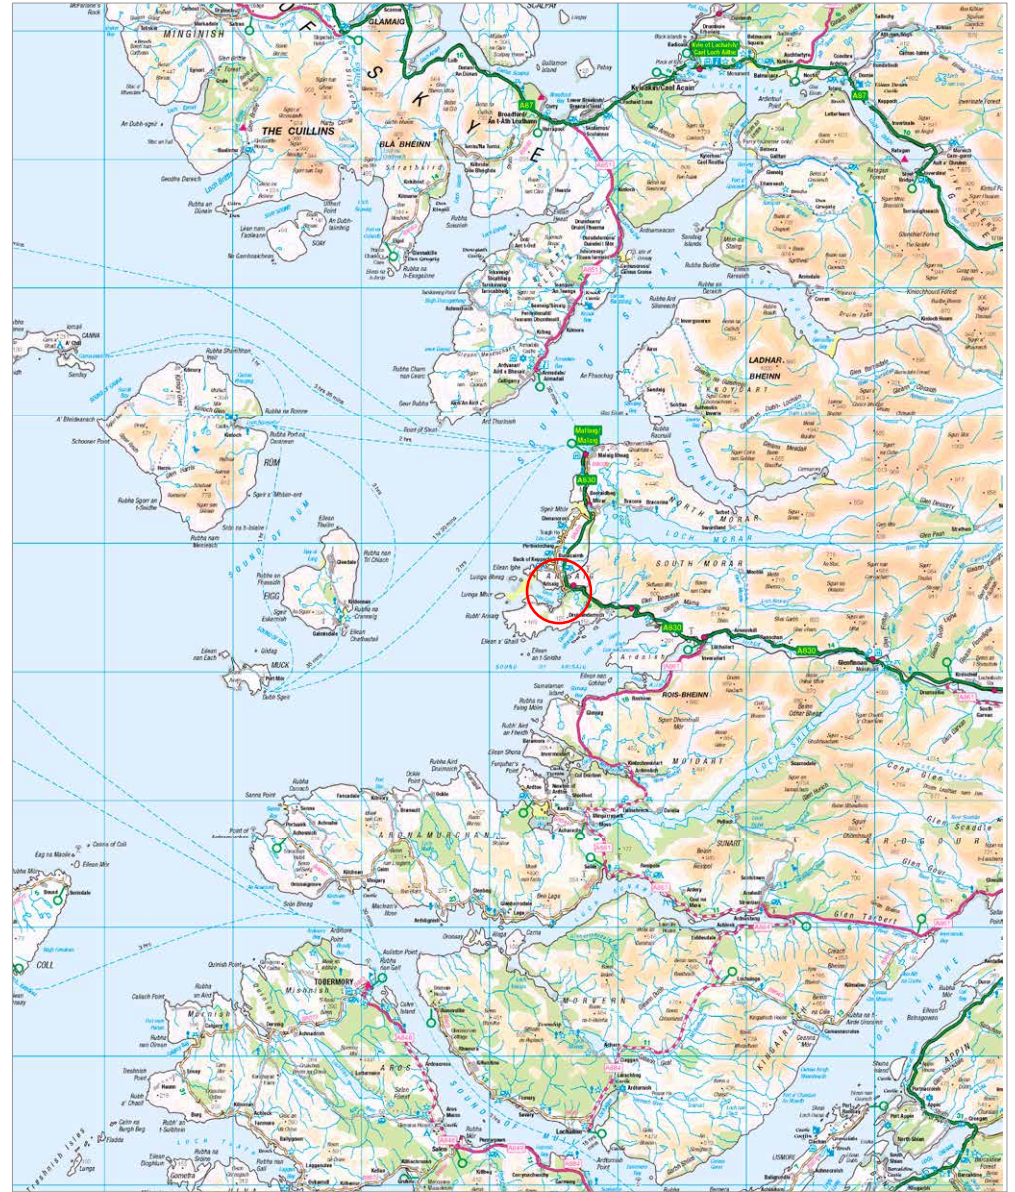

Despite its scenic location, transport links are excellent: the property enjoys easy access to the A82 Glasgow to Inverness road and to Inverness Airport which offers a wide selection of domestic and European flights, while the village benefits from a passenger ferry to the small isles of Eigg, Muck and Rhum, a daily bus service to Fort William and surrounding areas and a station offering regular services to Fort William and on to Glasgow Central, with its onward connections to major regional and national centres.

The quality of sailing off the west highland coast and Inner Hebrides is of world renown and after leaving the Loch nan Ceall channel, there is open water to the North, South and West with the Inner Hebridean Islands of Eigg, Muck, Rhum, Canna and Skye close by. To the south lies the Ardnamurchan Peninsula and the Isle of Mull, Coll and Tiree. The property is therefore perfectly placed for sailing enthusiasts to explore much of the west coast.
